Iran veep quits, hints at divide within Cabinet

Agencies

The resignation on Sunday of Mohammad Javad Zarif, who had been appointed vice president for strategy and had led a search committee for cabinet nominations, shocked Iran's political circles. He had been a prominent face of President Pezeshkian's campaign, traveling across the country and telling voters to give change a chance. Now, he was abandoning the government in a public display of deep divisions before it was even formed.

In an Instagram post, Mr. Zarif said, "I am not satisfied with the outcome of my work, and I'm ashamed that I could not adequately achieve what I had promised about representation of women, youth and ethnicities and the expert opinion of the committees," he said.

At the center of the controversy are two key cabinet nominees: the candidates for minister of the interior and intelligence. The two conservatives have a long history of brutal crackdowns on protesters and women.

More stunning was the timing of Mr. Zarif's resignation. as he was bows out before a possible regional war.

Europe's call for refrain rejected

Iran rejected a call Tuesday by three European countries demanding it to refrain from any retaliatory attacks that would further escalate regional tensions. France, Germany and the UK issued a joint statement Monday endorsing the latest push by mediators to broker an agreement to end the war.

Russia steps up assaults on Pokrovsk Agencies

Russian forces stepped up their attacks on the Pokrovsk front in eastern Ukraine over the last 24 hours, the Ukrainian military said on Tuesday. reporting the largest number of battles in the area in a single day in a week.

The increase in fighting comes after Ukraine mounted a surprise cross-border incursion into Russia's Kursk region in what some military analysts see as an attempt to divert Russian forces from their main offensives in the east. Russian forces have been trying to advance towards the Kyiv-held logistics hub of Pokrovsk for months, inching forward incrementally and taking advantage of greater troop numbers.

In a daily readout, the Ukrainian military's General Staff said there had been 52 battles on the Pokrovsk front. a visible increase from figures of between 28 and 42 per day that have been reported over the past week.

Ukraine last reported more than that in the first days of August, before Kyiv's forces launched their cross-border attack into the Kursk region.

The Russian attacks in the last 24 hours were focused around the villages of Hrodivka and Zhelanne, located about 20 km from Pokrovsk, the General Staff said. The battles on the Pokrovsk front accounted for more than a third of all the battles reported along a 1,000-kilometer front, according to the Ukrainian readout that was provided.
